Corruption undermines efficiency and competition, damaging the economy, and ultimately threatens everyone's wellbeing. At Meinhardt, we are proud to be one of the leading companies pushing for the eradication of corruption in business in Thailand. We have joined Thailand's Private Sector Collective Action Coalition Against Corruption (CAC), and have been certified by the CAC for more than one year now. With independently audited systems and procedures in place to deal with any hint of bad practices involving any stakeholders, we encourage anybody to make use of our "whistle-blowing" link at www.meinhardt.net/contact-us, or feel free to contact our head of Business Development, Khun Chayanoot at chayanoot@meinhardt.net or 083-911-8118. This can be treated anonymously if preferred.

Any issues raised will be dealt with professionally and to complete resolution by our senior management.

PROJECT IN FOCUS

Located in Royal Precinct of Phnom Penh, Cambodia, the Hyatt Regency Phnom Penh will comprise a 250 key 5-Star hotel, centered around a historic 2 storey colonial house which will serve as main entry lobby. Developed by Cambodian developer Chipmong Ritta, the Groundbreaking Ceremony for the 14 storey with GFA of 45,000 sq.m. project took place on 22 March. Meinhardt is providing full C&S and MEP engineering design services for this luxury development which is expected to be completed by 2020.

"Designing a modern luxury hotel with a 3-level basement around a 20th century historical building is not without its challenges! But it is worth the effort to preserve the heritage of this site."
